

The rating scale bounds how far anyone can move

Fixed before the conversation by the baseline rating and the AI's stance

Grey band is the arithmetically feasible region; points are jittered.
Available room moves in opposite directions under the two stances, so H4 is specified as an extremity $\times$ stance interaction rather than a single pooled slope.